Prosser Hot Spot For Fishermen In Season's Opener

Hottest spot in the Truckee area on the opening weekend of the trout season was Prosser Reservoir. Most fishermen took limits easily, some within 30 minutes. Most fish were in the 10" class although some bigger trout were taken. About 1000 fishermen were active at Prosser over the weekend and success averaged about nine fish per angler, including the children, of which there were many.

Boca was also outstanding with most fish being taken at the north end of the lake where the Little Truckee River enters the lake. Creeks and streams throughout the area also produced good fishing.

Additional wardens were sent into the area to help out and eleven citations were issued. Six arrests were made for taking over limits of trout by anglers who made second and third trips to the lake. In all, 161 over-limit trout were confiscated by wardens. Two arrests were made for using more than one rod and two arrests were made for throwing litter into the lake. One citation was issued for carrying a loaded rifle in a vehicle. These arrests were made at Prosser Reservoir and are now pending in the Truckee Justice Court.

Fishing is expected to continue good at Prosser and Boca. Streams are in good condition and with moderate weather controlling the snow run-off are expected to produce good fishing for some time.

olverines Start Fast, Win Three With Colfax Next

by DOUG BARRETT

The travelling baseball Wolverines of Tahoe-Truckee High School opened their free-lance season with three wins in as many starts, according to Coach Roger Tofft.

On April 27 they went to Reno and measured the Manogue High School nine 7 to 2, behind the stellar pitching of Jim Bechdolt. He struck out nine, gave up only six hits and issued only three walks in winning.

The mountain squads margin was in speed rather than power. Johnny Besio's double was the heaviest hit of the day, but his team mates racked up 11 stolen bases. Curt Wurst hit twice and stole two bases; Rocky Knittel rapped three safeties and then stole two bases. Daryl Cernusak got a single and stretched it by stealing.

Ronnie Smith swiped three bases Dick Nielsen two and Greg Pope got away with one. Three of Truc kee's four errors were bunched on one play.

Joe Bickett, went the distance losing, striking out 11 and walk ing two. Manogue's infielder Mike Campana collected a double and two singles in four trips to the plate.

Johnson Pushes For Fund Action On Project Here

Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, representing the second mountain-valley counties, district from which originates much of California's water supply, has called on congress to approve a $55 million construction program, including two major projects in this immediate area.

In testimony before house and senate appropriations committees, Representative Johnson said that the public works construction pro gram reflects the need for con tined development of our water resources.

Among the projects which John son supports are $2,225,000 appropriation to continue construc tion on the Stampede reservoir and continue preconstruction planning for the Watasheamu dam and res ervoir.

Stampede was started this fiscal year with an appropriation of $566, 697. When complete in June, 1970 the reservoir will have a total stor age capacity of 225,000 acre feet

Another appropriation supported by the local representative is the Martis Creek reservoir to be constructed just southeast of Truckee. An appropriation of $400,000 is asked to start construction of this project. When completed in 1969, the $3,250,000 reservoir will provide flood protection for the city of Reno.

The sum of $85,928 is asked by the congressman for a report to be completed on the Hope Valley division of the Washoe Project in 1968.

"We recognize that this is a difficult period for our nation," Congressman Johnson said in commenting on the present tight budget situation. "While we must conserve all dollar resources, we must also conserve our natural resources, one of the most important of which is water. To abandon a wise program of flood control and reclamation development would be penny wise and pound foolish."

Kings Beach Clean Up Is Emphasized

Curtis Hart, fire chief of Kings Beach, made a plea for all residents to finish their spring cleanup this month, as open burning will be permitted for a short time, ex cept on windy days if they have the required permit to do so.

National Hospital Week May 8 - 14 Marked Locally

Alliance for Health is the theme for National Hospital Week, May 8 through May 14. This is a week set aside to make communities more aware of the health service provided by hospitals across the nation.

Here in Truckee, the hospital district is more than doubling the bed capacity of its fifteen year old hospital and expanding many of the existing facilities.

Existing departments scheduled for expansion and improvements are the dietary department, central supply, operating room, recovery room, delivery room, nursery and emergency rooms In addition, physiotherapy pediatarices and an intensive care unit will be added.

These services are all planned with the latest and most efficient equipment and supplies available.

During National Hospital Week, is common practice to have tours of the hospital. Unfortunately, due to the different phases of construction this is not possible this week for the general public.

On Wednesday, May 11, the hospital auxiliary and the junior auxiliary will be guests at a tea and tour of the new facility. The administration of the hospital will sponsor this function and the tours will be conducted by Mr. Greaney, the director of nursing service.

Donner, Truckee Fire Merger Meet

A public hearing on the proposal to annex the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department into the Truckee Fire Protection District will be held at 10 a. m. May 25, at the fire station in downtown Truckee.

At that time all persons opposed to the annexation may appear and be heard or may submit their opposition in writing. Those favoring may also appear. This is according to a resolution adopted by the Truckee commissioners which appears elsewhere in the Sierra Sun today.

The annexation proposal was reached after a thorough study by both the Truckee commissioners and the officials of the Donner department. Both felt that greater protection against fires could be obtained through consolidation of facilities and that costs for the service would be equalized through taxation rather than through donations as is currently the method in Donner Lake communities.

Adequate equipment wil be located throughout the consolidated district to assure prompt and effective fire fighting with firemen stationed in both the Truckee and Donner Lakke communities.

It is also proposed to increase the personnel of the present Truckee commission from three to five members. Present commissioners are N. F. Dolley, Elden Tonini and W. A. Loynd.

Sparks Council Endorses Project

It is part of the Washoe Project, which was amended at the urging of Sparks and Pyramid Lake Indians, allowing more water flow into Pyramid Lake.

In its resolution, the council stated that the proposed dam is important to flood control as well as conservation in the Reno-Sparks area.

Auditor Points Up Need for United Effort to Progress

Nevada County Controller John T. Trauner appeared before the last meeting of the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce as their luncheon speaker and talked about the need for a unified effort of the citizens and residents of the Truckee-Donner complex to bring about improvements and programs that would directly benefit the population of the area as well as provide an orderly program for growth.

Trauner stated that it was beyond his prerogative to recommend that the people of Truckee either vote to incorporate or vote against incorporation. He did, however, feel that public services in the Truckee Donner area, were in some instances, wholly lacking. He commented on the problem of double taxation, as it now exists in the area and stated that less than one-tenth of the population of Nevada County is bearing the burden of one-fifth of the county tax load.

He stated that as a county official for the last ten years, he has had an opportunity to help the various districts solve some of the problems they face. He stated, however, that special districts form of government is expensive in its duplcation of effort, and feels that the growth need is for the people of the Truckee Donner area to determine the program they want, whether it be incorporation or extension of county services in the area, and that once this determination has been made by the local citizens, they should weld themselves into a solid cohesive unit to effect the program they have decided upon

He mentioned that disunity was apparent and cited the instance of two local merchants giving him di verse opinions concerning the needs for additional county services in the area.

At the conclusion of his talk, Trauner answered many questions ranging from personnel selection by the county government to in stituting a training service for newly elected councilmen, if the incorporation is successful.

Congress Group Hears Local Men on Basin Interest

The committee on rivers and harbors, a congressional sub-committee of the public works committee, composed of Representative John Blatnik of Minnesota, Harold (Bizz) Johnson and Donald Clausen of California, concluded its hearings at South Lake Tahoe on Monday, May 2. The subject of the hearings was pollution problems of the Tahoe Basin and its water shed, which includes the Truckee-Donner area of Nevada County.

The testimony included local offices of federal agencies, state departments, county officials, special districts and interested associations.

Appearing for the Truckee Sanitary District were Fred Hodder of the board of directors and Cy Armstrong, Nevada County Sanitarian. Armstrong created a strong case for the Truckee district's sewage program by describing existing conditions and in conclusion stated that sewering the Donner Basin must be completed within three to five years to preclude gross pollution of Donner Lake. Hodder testified as to the district's expansion program, including the importance of recreationers and therefore the inability of the local property owners to stand the total cost of a program designed 3.8 times the size required for local needs.

He carefully described the district's accomplishments of the last five years, and proposed that the federal government participate in this local program by contributingg $1.5 million for outfall and main trunk lines over the next five years, with well over $1 million requested for fiscal year '66 and '67.

Upon conclusion of the Truckee district's testimony, Representative Blatnik, chairman of the committee, expressed the feeling of the three congressmen by stating that the citizens and board of directors of the Truckee Sanitation District were to be commended for their demonstration of local initiative and forward thinking attitudes in their planning over the last five years, and in their overwhelming vote in favor of the bond issue.

Chairman Blatnik also stated that Congressman Johnson was fortunate in representing such a progressive group of citizens within his congressional district.

At the conclusion of the two-day

Truckee Youth Student At Technical Institute, Seeks Engineer Degree

INGLEWOOD — James Thomas Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Whitney, P. O. Box 113, Truckee, is now attending Northrop Institute of Technology here, enrolled in the college of engineering.

Joining 1700 students from all 50 states and 42 foreign nations, Whitney is pursuing a program of study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in engineering.

Prior to his matriculation at Northrop Institute of Technology, he graduated from Tahoe-Truckee High School.

Northrop Tech is located in the heart of southern California's aerospace industry and has graduated nearly 10,000 young men for careers in this field. It is a nonprofit institution, accredited by Western College Association and, because of its unusually close relationship with the aerospace and electronic industries, it is often called "the college of the space age."

Planning a career in one of the aerospace or electronic firms, Whitney is assured of successful employment upon graduation because of the wide industry demand for alumni of Northrop Institute of Technology.

San Mateo was the name of a Spanish galleon in the Spanish Armada.

Sierra Skiing . . .

By VI WHITE

The most fascinating thing to report is the beautiful weather and the fantastic fishing luck that fishermen had for the opening of the season last weekend.

What brought it on was the dry cloudless sky, clear streams and lake, and of course the hungry fish.

Most everyone got their limits within an hour at Prosser and Boca, but the rainbow in the Truckee and Donner Creek were a little more elusive.

Donner Lake has been open a month already, but many limits of kokonee were taken. It's good to know that they're biting again Of course there were a few lucky ones that landed big mackinaw.

Motels were filled and so were camping spots and how lucky the campers were this year, remember last opening weekend when it snowed and caught a lot of them stuck in the back roads?

Spring has really sprung up here with all this lovely weather, but another rain storm is bound to come and settle the dust and keep the forests green.

Dawn and Emmett Whitney who have been living in their comfy Panabode cabin back in the Weeks tract on the west end of the lake are able to drive right to their door now. Quite a luxury after hiking over the snow all winter.

They recently spent a week boating on Lake Mead, Arizona.

Several summer cabin owners were up last weekend checking on their places and fishing—the Benedicts, Yates, Anderson's, Cuculis', Sachu's, Martin's, Corum's and Humphrey's.

Ed Corum, Commodore of the Donner Lake Sailing Club, was up checking dates with Vice Commodore Carson White and Secretary Treasurer, Vi White, to set a number of regattas for the summer.

The first to be a board meeting at Donner Lake Lodge 11 a. m. May 29 with a fun sail afterward.

Other dates are: June 25-26, July 9-10, August 13-14, September 10-11 and October 1-2. The club is open to anyone interested in sailing whether they own a boat or not.

Give membership chairman Fred Hodder a call, 587-3300, or send him a card, P. O. Box 847, Truckee, California 95734.

A valuable book of survey data was lost in the Alder Creek area by the engineers who are realigning the road there so that campsites can be made along the creek. Please notify the forest service or this paper if you find the brown cardboard book.

A petition is being circulated for signatures of people who would like to see concrete boat launching ramps built for public use at Donner Lake.

One to be situated at Donner Park and the others on county property on the north shore

The chamber of commerce and the Truckee-Donner Recreation and Park Department have already requested the board of supervisors to study the need.

For years, vehicles with trailers have bogged down while launching or picking up boats.

Stan Walton of Sacramento and Soda Springs was elected president of the Far West Ski Association and his wife, Madelyn, was named "woman of the year" at the FWSA convention in Las Vegas last weekend.

The Walton's have been avid skiers and used to operate the Donner Ski Ranch where their daughter, Starr, a former member of the U. S. Alpine team, learned to ski.

The man of the year award went to Byron Nishkian of San Francisco, president of the U. S. Ski Association.

Alpine Meadows ski area received an award as the top winter sports resort of the year.

Erik Henrikson of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club and Penny McCoy of Mammoth, were selected top junior competitors and Wendy Allen of Mammoth received the senior award.

Top ski coach was Dave McCoy of Mammoth, with a special award given to Slim Davis of the U. S. Forest Service for outstanding service.

Hank Jacobsen was reelected first vice president, Harry Parish, secretary treasurer, both of Sugar Bowl Ski Club.

Nine vice presidents named are Reg Robinson, Orinda, Oakland Ski Club member; J. B. McIntosh, San Francisco and Sugar Bowl; Ben Cole, Porterville; Jerry Wetzel, Reno; Darryl Sherman, Los Angeles; Ron Lyon, San Francisco; Harry Schlueter, Los Angeles, and Frank Post, Los Angeles.

tDirectors at large are Dave Brew, Los Altos; Roger Domen, Los Angeles; Axel Davidson, Menlo Park; Al Vincelette, San Francisco, and Al Gibbon, Phoenix, Arizona

Great Entertainment At Nevada Lodge

CRYSTAL BAY—This week it's four bouncing rhythm kings and a beauteous vocalist who entrance audiences in the Topaz Room at Nevada Lodge, north Lake Tahoe's largest year-round resort hotel casino.

The rhythm kings are The Four Tunes, an exciting foursome with 12 years of successful club experience and hit records on their pedigree. Their all-time best-seller was "Marie" which passed the million mark and put them on the entertainment map across the nation. This is their last weekend at Nevada Lodge.

Providing a most pleasing contrast to the Four Tunes, is glamorous Suzi Arden, the "Doin' What Comes Naturally" gal of the Jubilee USA television show. Suzi has flaming red hair and a flaming emotional voice which takes hold of country and western tunes like no other vocalist.

State Parks Department Sees Burton Creek Area As Potential Park Site

The California department of parks and recreation holds the Burton Creek area in high esteem as a potential state park area in the Tahoe region.

Fred Jones, department director, estimates a potential of 2,000 camp sites, 275 picnic sites and 1¼ miles of good beach between the coast guard station and the Tahoe State Recreation Area if the section could be acquired by the state.

Briner Calls for Halt To More Lake Studies, Says It's Action Time

AUBURN—William S. Briner, a Placer County supervisor, charges that Lake Tahoe is rapidly being studied to death and called for immediate action in saving the lake from a fate worse than death—pollution.

In an angry and emotional statement to his fellow supervisors, Briner stated that he thought Senate Resolution 104 (Teale), asking for another study of the pollution problem at Lake Tahoe was "ridiculous and unnecessary."

"All we need now is financial help from the state or federal government," Briner declared, "and this board should go after it. With our Plan B accepted by all the communities on the north shore, we only need to put pipe into the ground and have the problem settled," Briner continued.

Assembly Bill 146 (Chappie) now before the legislature would allocate almost $2.9 million in loans and grants for sewage disposal purposes on the north shore of Lake Tahoe. AB 146 has passed the assembly water committee.

"During the past two years," Briner said, "we've spent almost $50,000 studying and finding a solution to pollution problems for Lake Tahoe.

"Further studies only delay tackling the problem and if carried on long enough may make a real solution impossible."

The supervisor, a Republican candidate for the third senatorial district nomination, reminded the Placer County supervisors that they have the solution at hand now if they will only grab it.

According to Briner, an engineering study completed last year for all of the counties adjoining the lake and the Lake Tahoe Area Council proposes a logical and economical solution to the problem in the north end of the lake.

The plan proposed provides for the export of effluent from the lake basin and disposal in a drainage area away from the lake.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Members of the state lands commission, who are Alan Cranston, state controller, Glenn M. Anderson, lieutenant-governor, both incidentally candidates for re-election, and Hale Champion, state director of finance, are confronted with a knotty situation at the present time.

This is the plight of the "ark-site" residents on Corte Madera creek, in Marin County.

Congress has appropriated funds for the development of the creek as a flood control project, and is ready to start work through the army engineers as of June 30.

As a result, the residents will be dispossessed, and stand to lose their residences as a result of the development.

An "ark-site" consists of a plot of state land along the creek, for the most part submerged, and leased for purposes of occupancy by barges, boats, or other floating establishments which have been converted into living quarters.

About twenty sites are involved. Representatives of the holders have advised the commission they are not opposed to the development of the creek as a flood control project, which means most of the sites will be dredged out, but they are concerned over the timing of the project, and also over possible compensation for the monies they have invested in personal property which cannot be removed from the sites.

Reason the arks can't be taken out, they explained, is the fact that after they were located, a bridge was constructed across the creek and the arks can't be towed out.

The commission is highly sympathetic to the plight of the leasees, but is in a position where not much can be done about the matter. The state cannot recompense the lease holders for personal property. Attorneys pointed out if it did, there would be a violation of the constitution in the matter of giving away public funds.

The commission has already granted right-of-way easements to the federal government, and as well, has issued a dredging permit to commence the work.

At a recent meeting, it instructed F. J. Hortig, executive officer, to issue vacating notices in a time less than sixty days if necessary to assure the beginning of the project, but to confer with the attorney general's office to determine whether ways and means could be found to secure some recompense to the site leases.

The leasees claim they are citizens and taxpayers, and should have similar rights to their property as other citizens who have located on similar sites owned by private interests, in other words, they are denied the process of condemnation proceedings and recompense for their losses which cannot be avoided.

Consequently, they want to stay in their homes as long as possible. A suggestion by Hugo Fisher, state resources agency director, proposed the intervention of the attorney general into the picture to determine whether the county or Marin and its flood control district might be responsible for recompense.

TAHOE LEVEL

The level of Lake Tahoe on Wednesday was 6227.79, according to Daryl De Walt's office, with 72 cf per second leaving the gate.

May 3 topped the week in high temperature at 70 degrees, April 28 had 28 degrees for the low.

Girl for Griffins—

hearing, the committee stated that the problem of the Lake Tahoe Basin and its water shed is unique in that we are using preventative methods to solve our problems before pollution becomes intolerable. They cited the pollution problem of Lake Erie, the Potomac River and the Hudson River. New York City was cited as an area which is surrounded by abundant water which is unseable.

They also stated that they realized that time is of the essence. Congressman Johnson emphasized that the public works committee was very sympathetic to this hearing concerning our problem and he feels that there is a part for the federal government to play financially in the solution of this problem. Johnson also congratulated the witnesses on their fine presentations and pointed out that the testimony will become a part of the Congressional Record which will be available to the public.

Francis Longo, manager of the Truckee Public Utility District, testifying in behalf of the Lahontan Water Pollution Control Board, cited the history of the board, its objectives and responsibilities for controlling sewage discharge within the basin.

The committee closed with remarks that the only solution to the basin's problem was from a regional approach and that unless all districts involved cooperated in this regional approach, outside financial assistance was doubtful.

Nevada Fish, Game Is Cool on Compact

RENO—Provisions for fish and game management are inadequate in the California-Nevada Joint Water Compact, the Nevada fish and game commission has protested.

Tom Trelease, commission chief of fisheries, and Fred Wright, assistant chief of game, made the presentation during the last meeting of the compact commission.

They complained the proposed compact is not giving sufficient recognition to wildlife interests.

The compact commissions of the two states have been attempting for a decade to draw up an agreement for division of surplus waters of the Truckee, Carson and Walker Rivers watersheds.

Fish and game authorities have protested task force recommendations are not being recognized by compact delegates.

They complained that the compact commissions have been represented chiefly by agricultural and irrigation interests, and have asked that their makeup be broadened to include wildlife interests.

To the many friends who sent me cards, messages of encouragement, flowers and other gifts during my stay in the hospital, I take this means of expressing most sincere thanks. Especially, I want to thank the staff at the Tahoe Forest Hospital for the excellent, efficient and thoughtful care which they gave. Your cheerful kindness will long be remembered with gratitude.

Bowman Lake Road Open, Use Limited

The road to Bowman Lake was opened to Jackson Creek camp ground via Bloomfield-Graniteville road in time for the fishing season which opened April 30, announced Jack M. Meade, Nevada County director of public works.

The public is warned that several muddy areas exist from Graniteville to Bowman Lake. Therefore, Meade advises that only four-wheel drive vehicles and pickups travel on this road. Travelers are further cautioned that it will be virtually impossible for vehicles pulling trailers to gain access to the lake at the present time.
